1. Introduction

The Global Environmental Justice (GEJ) Group is a research group at the School of International Development in the University of East Anglia. We are an interdisciplinary group of scholars interested in the links between social justice and environmental change at local and global scales.

We study injustices in different areas of contemporary environmental governance, and we are actively involved in envisioning and supporting more effective forms of environmental governance and social mobilisation. We seek to place justice analysis at the heart of environmental governance, with a particular emphasis on promoting environmental justice for those suffering from poverty and disempowerment. Our interest in identifying global connections and dynamics is combined with explicit attention to local social and environmental struggles.

We value exchanging perspectives and collaborating with a number of actors including local communities, land and resource users, other researchers, environmental activists, policy-makers, development professionals and students.

This annual report covers the period between August 2018 and July 2019, and summarises the breadth and depth of research and engagement carried out by the members. A highlight of the year was the international Environmental Justice conference Transformative Connections, hosted by the group at UEA in July 2019, with over 150 delegates; you can read more about this in section 6. Our Environmental Justice MOOC remains popular with thousands of learners joining from around the world each year; you can read more about this in section 7.

After four years of directing the GEJ Group Adrian Martin is standing down, and Gareth Edwards is now Director of the group.

2. Members of the Global Environmental Justice Group

Teresa Armijos Burneo

Lecturer in Natural Resources and International Development

Adrian Martin

Professor of Environment and
Development

Vasudha Chhotray

Senior Lecturer in Development Studies

Poshendra Satyal

Senior Research Associate

Neil Dawson

Research Fellow

Heike Schroeder

Professor of Environmental Governance

Gareth Edwards

Senior Lecturer in Geography and
Development

Oliver Springate-Baginski

Senior Lecturer in Environment and
Development

Iokine Rodriguez Fernandez

Senior Lecturer in Environment and
Development

Carole White

Research Fellow

Roger Few

Professorial Research Fellow

Mark Tebboth

Lecturer in Environment and International
Development

Emma Gilberthorpe

Senior Lecturer in Anthropology and
Development

Mark Zeitoun

Professor of Water Security and Policy

Hannah Gray

Global Environmental Justice Group
Coordinator

Affiliate Members of the Global Environmental Justice Group

Nicole Gross-Camp

Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Environmental Science at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pennsylvania (USA)

Brendan Coolsaet

Assistant Professor in Environment & Development, European School of Political and Social Sciences (ESPOL) in Lille, France

Shalini Sharma

Fulbright Fellow, Princeton University, New Jersey (USA)

Rodd Myers

Environmental Social Scientist, Dala Institute for Environment and Society, Indonesia

Neil Dawson: Co-chair for theme on Human Wellbeing and Sustainable Livelihoods for IUCN's (International Union for the Conservation of Nature) Commission on Economic, Environmental and Social Policy. From June 2017 to present.

Adrian Martin: I am also a Coordinating Lead Author for the IPBES (Intergovernmental Science-Policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services) Assessment of Diverse Values of Nature. From April 2018 to March 2021.

Heike Schroeder: Member of the Lead Faculty group at Earth System Governance.

Poshendra Satyal: Appointed Committee Member of the Royal Geographical Society's Mount Everest Foundation.

6. Environmental Justice Conference

The GEJ group hosted the 2019 Environmental Justice Conference 'Transformative Connections' at UEA on 2 - 4 July.

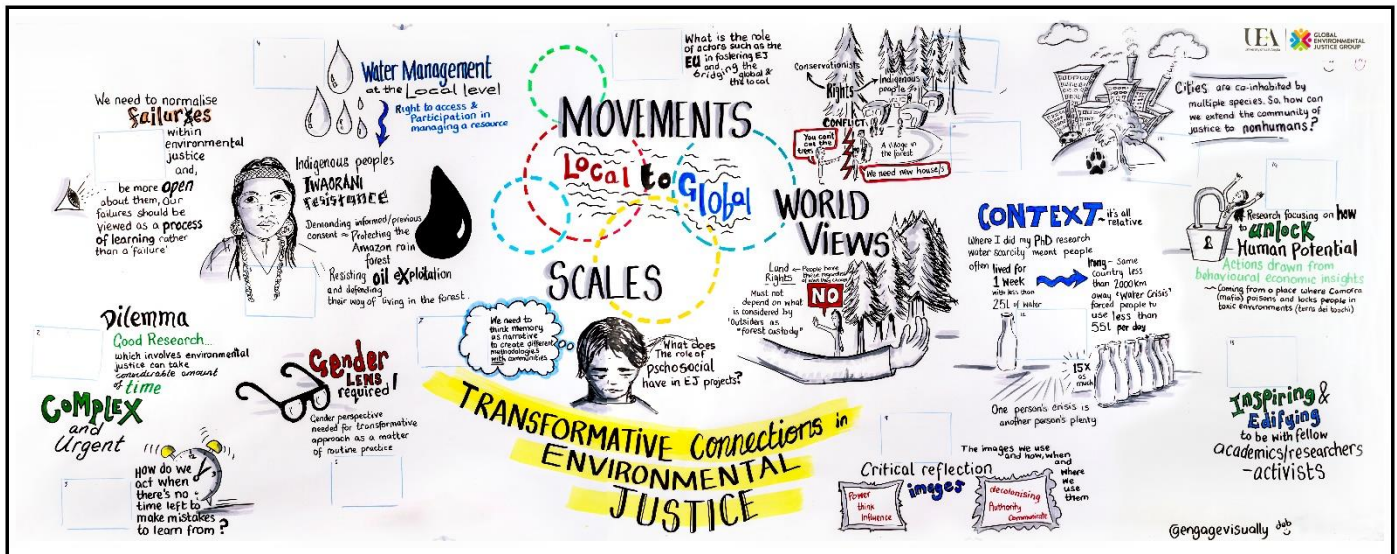

The primary focus of the conference was connections between environmental justice and transformations to sustainability, with three main conference themes relating to connections across scales, movements and worldviews. We were delighted to welcome four keynote speakers who span the academic and activist perspectives of environmental justice.

You can find conference resources on the links below, including:

- the Summary Conference Programme
- the Full Conference Abstract Book
- the Conference Background Paper
- Graphic records from the conference
- Conference videos

The Global Environmental Justice Group would like to thank the keynote speakers, conference presenters and delegates their contributions to this conference. We would also like to thank the support team at UEA including UEA Conferences, The Enterprise Centre and School of International Development and Student Helpers for making the event a success.

7. Environmental Justice Massive Open Online Course (MOOC)

You can find out more about the course or enrol for the next run at www.futurelearn.com/courses/environmental-justice/. The two graphs below give more information about the learners studying the Environmental Justice MOOC.
